No. 7882.—The following extract from the Board of Trade Journal, dated the 28th August 1919, is published for general information :—

IMPORT RESTRICTIONS.

PROVISIONAL LIST OF KEY INDUSTRIES.

With reference to the Prime Minister's statement in Parliament on Monday, 18th August, on the subject of Trade Policy, the Board of Trade make the following announcement as to the steps which are proposed in connexion with imports of goods from abroad.

Legislation will be introduced when Parliament re-assembles in the autumn—

(a) For the protection of goods manufactured in Great Britain and Ireland against dumping by taking power to prevent the sale in this country of similar goods beneath their price in the country of origin;

(b) to enable the Board of Trade to check any flood of imports (for instance, from Germany) that might arise from a collapse of exchange so disproportionate to costs of production in the country of origin as to enable sales to take place in this country at prices altogether below costs of production here;

(c) to deal with unstable "key" industries in the following way :—

A limited number of unstable "key" industries will be scheduled, the products of which will be prohibited from importation into this country except on licence.

Pending legislation, a general licence under the Prohibition of Import Proclamations will be issued by the Board of Trade having effect as from the 1st September 1919, and authorizing the importation into the United Kingdom of all goods with the exception of those in the following list, which will be treated as unstable "key" industries:—

(1) All derivatives of coal tar generally known as intermediate products capable of being used or adapted for use as dyestuffs or of being modified or further manufactured into dyestuffs. All direct cotton colours, all union colours, all acid colours, all chrome and mordant colours, all alizarine colours, all basic colours, all sulphide colours, all vat colours (including synthetic indigo), all oil, spirit and wax colours, all lake colours, and any other synthetic colours, dyes, stains, colour acids, colour lakes, lauco acids, lauco bases, whether in paste, powder, solution, or any other form.

(2) (i) Synthetic drugs (including antiseptics).

(ii) Synthetic perfumes and flavourings; synthetic photographic chemicals; synthetic tannins; esters and acid derivatives of aromatic hydro-carbons; alkaloids and their salts (except quinine); and the following organic chemicals.—Acetanuda; acetic acid; acetic anhydride; acetyl chloride; camphor bromide, cinnamic acid and its salts; ethylene bromide; formamide; formic acid and its salts; gallic acid; lactic acid and its salts; nucleic; paraldehyd, pyrogallic acid; saccharin or other substances of like nature or use; salicin; thymol.

(iii) Analytical re-agents; and the following fine chemicals :—Barium compounds; cerium fluorides and fluorides of other rare earth metals; hydro-sulphites and allied bleaching compounds; hypophosphorous acids; iron and ammonium citrate; iron tartrate; molybdic acid and its salts; phosphorous oxides and halogen compounds; salts of per acids and artificial peroxides; silver nucleinate and protoinate; tungstic acid and its salts.

(3) Optical glass, including lenses, prisms and like optical devices.

(4) Scientific glassware.

(5) Illuminating glassware.

(6) Laboratory porcelain.

(7) Scientific and optical instruments.

(8) Potassium compounds.

(9) Tungsten powder and ferro-tungsten.

(10) Zinc oxide.

(11) Lithopone.

(12) Thorium nitrate.

(13) Gas mantles and mantle rings.

(14) Magnetos.

(15) Hosiery needles, latch.

(16) Gauges.

In addition to the above, in pursuance of the undertaking given by the President of the Board of Agriculture in the House of Lords on 19th March 1919, the prohibition on the importation of hops will be continued for the present.

It is not proposed to make any additions to the above list unless and until Parliament so determine; with the possible exception that in the event of the contingency foreshadowed in paragraph (b) above arising it might be necessary to suspend temporarily all or any of the imports from the country affected by the collapse of exchange.

The Board of Trade announce, in explanation of the above, that pending legislation a General Licence under the Prohibition of Import Proclamations is to be issued to cover all goods with the exception of those set out in the list of key industries. In the case of Kerosene and Benzine (including White Spirit), Gas Oil and Fuel Oil, this general licence refers to total quantity of import, and does not affect the agreement entered into by the Government to limit the number of importing firms for the period of the existence of the Pool Board, and nine months thereafter to those firms which co-operated with the Government to form the Pool Board as a result of which the community received material benefits. The termination of the war organization of the Pool Board as from 31st January 1919 was announced in the Press on 2nd January 1919. The nine months period which has to elapse before other firms are allowed to import does not therefore expire until 31st October 1919.

Further, it should be noted that in accordance with the provisions of article 295 of the Peace Treaty, which requires all the parties to the Treaty to adopt the International Opium Convention, the importation of Opium and Cocaine, except under Home Office licence, remains prohibited.

Temp. Addl. Secretary to Government.

The following resolution of the Government of India is republished :—

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Simla, the 17th October 1919.

No. 525-Elec.—The Government of India have, for a considerable time past, had under consideration the question of undertaking a systematic survey of the water-power resources of India for the generation of electrical energy, and in view of rapid industrial development now anticipated the discovery of cheap sources of power has become a matter of national importance. The policy of the Government of India has hitherto been to leave to private enterprise the survey and investigation of water-power sites, but development upon these lines has been slow and they have therefore decided to make themselves responsible for a detailed hydrographic survey of India with the object of ascertaining to what extent water-power is available in the country, and how it can best be utilized for industrial purposes.

2. With this object in view Mr. G. T. Barlow, C.I.E., late Chief Engineer, Public Works Department, United Provinces, Irrigation Branch, and Mr. J. W. Meares, Electrical Adviser to the Government of India, were appointed in October 1918 to carry out a preliminary reconnaissance of the water power resources of the country. An extensive tour was undertaken by these officers during the cold weather of 1918-19, visits being paid to the more important provinces and the general lines upon which the survey was to be conducted were formulated in consultation with the local authorities. Before, however, this preliminary inquiry could be completed the Government of India, in April 1919, suffered a great loss in the death of Mr. Barlow, which deprived them of the services of an officer of outstanding talent both as Engineer and organizer. Mr. Meares succeeded Mr. Barlow as Chief Engineer of the survey and his report on the work accomplished has now been published under the title "Preliminary report on the water-power resources of India." This report is available for sale to the public and may be obtained from the Superintendent, Government Printing, India, Calcutta. The Government of India desire to take this opportunity to acknowledge the services of Mr. Meares, who has produced a most useful report, complete so far as material is at present available, and to indicate broadly the lines on which it is proposed that the investigation should proceed.

3. An examination of the report will show that, although a large number of possible sites has been brought to notice, very little precise information exists in regard to the majority of them, and the list of such sites included in the appendices is valuable mainly as the basis of a programme for further survey and inquiry. An examination of these and such other sites as may appear promising is now urgently required and in especially favourable cases a detailed survey.

4. With the object of carrying out the further reconnaissance as speedily and as thoroughly as possible, each local Government has been requested to nominate an experienced officer of the Public Works Department to be placed on special duty to take charge of the work within the province concerned, and it is anticipated that, during the coming cold weather, a considerable number of sites will be examined and reported on. Owing to the depletion of the staff of the department in consequence of the war, it is impossible to provide as large an establishment for the purpose as could be desired, but by concentrating in the first instance upon those schemes which appear definitely promising it is hoped that much useful information may be collected even with the limited establishment which can be spared this year and that in future it may be possible to extend the scope of the operations. Reports will be issued from time to time for the information of the public, showing the progress of the work and the results achieved.

5. Mr. F. E. Ball, Chief Engineer and Secretary to Government, Assam, has been appointed to succeed Mr. Barlow, and he and Mr. Meares will be in general charge of the operations during the coming winter.

W. J. J. HOWLEY,
Secy. to Govt., P.W.D. (General and Irrigation).

3. A secondary school-leaving certificate-holder who qualifies in one of the four selected subjects in Group C but who fails to qualify in a second subject of that group shall be eligible for admission, provided that in the former subject he obtains excess marks equal in number to twice the number of marks by which he is deficient in the latter subject.

4. A secondary school-leaving certificate-holder who fails to qualify in Vernacular Composition, or Elementary Mathematics, or in both, and also in a second subject of Group C may be declared eligible for admission, provided that he obtains excess marks as above both in the other subject or subjects in Group A and in one of the four selected subjects of Group C.

5. The eligibility of a school-leaving certificate-holder will be determined for each Group of subjects separately, by the test of Presidency averages or fixed percentages throughout, or by the test of Presidency averages in Group A and fixed percentages in Group C, or vice versâ.

6. A secondary school-leaving certificate-holder who fails to qualify under the preceding rules by reason of deficiency of marks.

(a) in one subject only— will be declared eligible for admission,

If the deficiency of marks is not more than one mark, irrespective of his total marks.

provided that the deficiency of marks				if his total marks amount to
is not more than 2 marks.				not less than 300
Do.	do.	3	"	do. 250
Do.	do.	4	"	do. 300
Do.	do.	5	"	do. 350

and so on

or

(b) in two subjects only —

will be declared eligible for admission provided that the deficiency is not	if his total marks amount to not less than to more than 1 mark in one subject and 1 mark in the other subject.	250
" 1 mark and 2 marks	do. 300
" 2 marks and 2 marks	do. 350

For the purpose of this rule, in calculating the total marks gained, the higher mark obtained in each subject will be selected, whether examination mark or moderated mark, and in calculating the deficiency of marks the smallest deficiency will be selected after application of both alternatives in rules 1 and 5 and after applying rules 2, 3 and 4.

In the case of a secondary school-leaving certificate-holder who has been excused the study of Vernacular Composition and Translation and has taken a classical or foreign language and one other subject only under Group C, the total marks required under this rule will be reduced by one-fifth, provided always that in the case of such certificate-holder no total number of marks will be allowed to compensate for deficiency of marks in the language so taken under Group C.

In the case of a certificate-holder who has been excused the study of Vernacular Composition and Translation and has taken a classical or foreign language and two other subjects under Group C, the total marks required under this rule will not be reduced (his marks in each of the five subjects being taken into account), and compensation for the deficiency of marks will be admissible under this rule irrespective of subject.

7. The moderation of the marks obtained by a holder of a secondary school-leaving certificate for the purpose of the above rules will be effected as follows —

The individual mark gained by him for the last year at school in each subject will be multiplied by the average mark for the school at the Public Examination and the result divided by the average mark at school of the candidates from the school actually appearing for the Public Examination.

"he figure thus obtained will be added to the individual mark gained by him at the Public Examination and the total will then be divided by two to obtain the final moderated mark.

8. In the case of certificates issued under the authority of Native States in the territorial jurisdiction of the University similar standards for admission will be applied.

V. Any candidate for admission to University courses of study who in any year fails to qualify by reason of deficiency in any subject or subjects in which he has undergone examination will be required to undergo a supplementary course at school in all the subjects of Group A and in two subjects of Group C. He must again appear at the Public Examination at the close of this supplementary course and his eligibility for admission will be determined as if he had then appeared for the examination for the first time. In the case of a candidate who, after undergoing a supplementary course and examination, has failed again to qualify for admission to University courses of study, and who is permitted to appear at the Public Examination in a subsequent year after private study, eligibility for admission will be determined upon his last examination marks alone.

VI. Hereafter candidates for admission to colleges, whose last appearance at the Public Examination was in 1917 or earlier, must submit their certificates to this office for inspection not later than the 3rd April. Every such certificate will be judged by examination marks alone according to the rules in force for certificates completed in the year in which it is submitted for inspection except that the best performance in each subject in any year will be taken into consideration.

VII. Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing rules, the Principals of Colleges for Women will be permitted to make admissions at their discretion of female holders of secondary school-leaving certificates whether or not the names of such holders of certificates are included in the published list of certificate holders eligible for admission to University courses of study. Certificate-holders so admitted to Colleges for Women will be registered as matriculates under Regulation 1 of Chapter XVI.

VIII. The lists published annually in the Fort St. George Gazette will contain the names of all certificate-holders found to be eligible for admission to University courses of study in affiliated colleges, other than Colleges for Women, under the rules and directions issued by the Syndicate. It is, however, to be clearly understood that inclusion in the list confers on no certificate-holder the right of admission to any affiliated college. The Principals of Colleges are at perfect liberty to restrict admission to such applicants as they may select and are moreover required strictly to confine admission to such eligible certificate-holders as, judged by their certificates, may be expected to profit by the particular courses of study upon which they propose to enter in the college selected.

THE MADRAS STUDENTS' ADVISORY COMMITTEE.

The following letter, dated 2nd April 1919, from Dr. T. W. Arnold, Educational Adviser to the Secretary of State, India Office, Whitehall, to the Secretary, Madras Students Advisory Committee, is published for general information to the students and public:—

At the request of our Local Adviser to Indian students in Manchester, I write to let you know that the Principal of the College of Technology there is of opinion that students from India should not be advised to come here to undertake a course of study at Manchester unless they have reached in India a sufficient standard of education to secure their exemption from the Matriculation examination of the Joint Board of the Northern Universities. In the case of Indian students this standard is marked by a certificate of having passed the first examination in Arts, Science, or Medicine of an Indian University. The entrance examination of the College of Technology is intended to be an alternative test to the Matriculation Examination for students of mature age, who (it is thought) ought not to be required to resume discontinued studies in order to pass a school-boy examination before entering upon their University course, and it is proposed to emphasize this aspect of the entrance examination in future by admitting to it only those candidates who have had at least twelve months' experience in works. So far as Indian students are concerned this condition will not be enforced until 1919.

6. (1) In the case of any public office to which the Governor-General in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare this sub-section to apply, a Government security may be made or indorsed payable to or to the order of the holder for the time being of the office by the name of the office.

Repeals.

Repeals. 29. On and from the date on which this Act comes into force, the Indian Securities Act, 1886, and so much of the First and Second Schedules of the Repealing and Amending Act, 1914, as relates to the Indian Securities Act, 1886, shall be repealed. XIII of 1866. X of 1914 XIII of 1866.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE existence of various defects and doubtful points in the present law regarding Government securities (Act XIII of 1866) has for some time pointed to the necessity of overhauling and re-enacting that Act, in order that the law governing such securities, and the procedure and regulations based thereon, may be better adapted to the requirements of modern conditions. The principal changes introduced by this Bill are summarised below :—

(a) to legalise certain matters in the existing practice and procedure which it is desirable to maintain, but of which the legal basis is at present doubtful ;

(b) to obviate difficulties and delays which are at present liable to occur, in cases of disputed or doubtful claims on promissory notes, in discovering who is the Government's legal creditor in respect of such notes ;

(c) to relax the present procedure in certain matters such as receiving notice of a trust and securities held by office holders ; and

(d) to provide special facilities in cases of small holdings of which the holder has died or is a minor.

2. The clauses of the Bill which introduce these changes are as follows :—

Clause 3 This corresponds to section 4 of the existing Act, the rigidity of which has caused much trouble in practice. The proviso to this clause legalises the existing practice regarding executors and administrators, while sub-clauses (l) and (m) of clause 21 (2) of the Bill will, in the case of Government debt held in the form of stock, enable various facilities to be given to the public, in the matter of securities held in trust or in the name of office holders (other than the holders of a public office), which are not possible under the existing law.

Clauses 4, 5 and 6 reproduce sections 5, 6 and 7 of the present Act.

Clause 7 is new and designed to legalise the present practice of issuing special notes to the Rulers of Indian States.

Clauses 8, 9 and 10 reproduce sections 9, 10 and 12 of the existing Act.

Clause 11 corresponds to section 11 of the present Act, but contains a proviso legalising the practice which is at present followed regarding securities belonging to a joint Hindu family, while sub-clause (2) provides for the renewal of bearer bonds

Clause 12 introduces a definite procedure in cases in which adverse claims arise, and provides a means for their more expeditious disposal than is possible under the existing law

Clause 13 provides for the conversion, consolidation or subdivision of Government securities, for which at present no specific provision exists.

Clause 14 provides for Government's liability being discharged in the case of bearer bonds and, in certain cases, of other securities, on payment renewal, conversion, consolidation or subdivision, while the proviso safeguards the interests of third parties who may in certain cases be adversely affected as the result of proceedings under clause 12.

Clause 15 corresponds to section 13 of the existing Act, but includes provision for converted, consolidated or subdivided securities

Clause 16 introduces a procedure on the lines of sections 4 to 7 of the Government Savings Banks Act, 1873 (V of 1873), which will enable claims in respect of small holdings standing in the names of deceased persons to be expeditiously met.

Under clause 17 Government takes power to prescribe the procedure to be followed in the case of securities held by minors or lunatics, and thereby to dispense with the formalities which under the existing law must attend transactions connected with securities so held.

Clause 18 provides for the taking of indemnities, and will cover cases in which there is reason to doubt a claimant's title though no adverse claimant has actually appeared.

Clause 19 places on a legal basis the confidential character of the books, registers, etc., maintained in the Public Debt Offices. The practice in England is to allow no inspection by the public, though a search is made at the request of bona fide applicants and the results reported to them. This is generally the practice followed in India, although at present it does not rest on any specific legal provision Clause 20 introduces a specific provision to penalise false statements made in proceedings in respect of securities for the purpose of obtaining payment or renewal and the like.

Of the rule-making powers enumerated in clause 21 (2) (a), (b), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), the second half of (f) and (g) correspond to and generally reproduce the rule-making powers conferred by section 14 of the existing Act. Of the remainder (i), (l) and (p) are consequential to clauses 7, 17 and 19, respectively, of the Bill, the first half of (f) being consequential to clause 18. (k) and (m) have been mentioned above under clause 3 (l) and (n) are new, and are designed to facilitate the procedure regarding the matters mentioned therein

Sub-clause (j) of clause 21 has been adapted from the English law, and lays down the limits within which the recognition of trusts can operate, at the same time safeguarding the interests of beneficiaries
